

Both types of gamma-ray bursts make a pair of cones of superfast and superhot material. These jets are the source of the gamma rays, and we can only see them if we're in the right place at the right time.